

GENERAL SUMMARY.

MR. WISE'S OPINION OF GEN. CASS.—In order to show how "circumstances" sometimes change men's opinions, we are induced to extract the following from Document No. 194 of the House of Representatives, 33rd session of the 24th Congress, in which the reader will see what was then the opinion of Henry A. Wise, respecting Gen. Lewis Cass, now the nominee of a portion of the so-called Democratic party for the high office of President of the United States. The document relates to an inquiry into the administration of the Executive Departments. Mr. Wise, being under oath, testified as follows:—

"I believe that Lewis Cass, Secretary of War, was engaged in speculating in the public lands, while Secretary of War; that he made exorbitant allowances to favorites; that he was for services never performed; and that he had full knowledge that the favorite forged his signature; permitted commissions under him to be ante-dated; and has ordered a Treasury warrant to be paid to the assignee of a disbarred officer who had gambled it a way, after it had been protested by a deposit bank, and was countermanded by the Secretary of the Treasury; and to have been guilty of several other acts of violation of duty."

"A story is going the rounds that Gen. Taylor had written a letter to Mr. Doolittle, a Republican, of Wyoming, stating that he did not mean to endorse the sentiments of the editor of the Cincinnati Signal, in relation to the ordinance of 1787. Mr. Doolittle authorizes the paper published in his neighborhood to state that he has received no such letter."
—Kenne Sentinel.

GEN. TAYLOR'S NOMINATION.—The New Orleans Picayune of the 16th instant, says:—

"On Friday the long expected official letter of Governor Morehead, announcing to General Taylor his nomination by the Philadelphia Convention, was received by the old General at his headquarters."

"The 'True Sun,' a Hunker paper, is getting on a high level of steam."

THE TRAVELLING MENAGERIE.—There is a change in the performers in the Barnburner's force. John Van Buren was the actor-droll-work. He has been retained to give for the new stars. The performance is for the benefit of John's father, who plays Harlequin. Father is to play Mawmaw, in a scene from the comedy of the Hypocrite. Grover is to do the Clown's business. Barnburner is the posture-maker of the company—to show off the ground and lofty walking. From his part in that way, in throwing his legs in every party he has belonged to, he has acquired some notoriety. Eldon and Field are to sustain the heavy tragedy parts. Due notice is given of the entrance of the caravan into the several villages of the State.

A SIGNIFICANT PARAGRAPH.—Henry A. Wise denounced A. H. H. Stuart, of Va., as an abolitionist. The Richmond Whig denies that Mr. S. is an abolitionist in the "northern significance," but admits that "Mr. S. does not regard slavery as a blessing, and would be glad to see the State get rid of it." The Whig then significantly adds:—"If all those who entertain this opinion in Virginia are to be denounced as traitors and driven into the support of General Taylor, we can tell Mr. Wise a little secret: that Cass's vote in November will be the largest ever polled in this State."

MR. CRAVE.—The Louisville Journal of the 12th instant, in speaking of some criticisms to the contrary, says:

"We are embarrassed to reply by one of our own members, and by one of our most devoted friends, that Mr. C. is undoubtedly one of our ablest and most successful members."

MR. HALE AND THE BUFFALO CONVENTION.—Many inquiries have been made respecting the views of Mr. Hale in relation to the Buffalo Convention. We are authorized to state that, personally, he would be pleased to see such a state of things as would justify him in the opinion of his friends in withdrawing his name from the canvass; but he will not do so without the concurrence of his friends in the measure. He is anxious that Liberty men should attend the Buffalo meeting, if in their judgment should dictate such a step, and in their own mind and resources, to such a course as shall not on a proper basis all the opponents of slavery and Slave Extension.—National Int.

THE WHIGS OF WINDSOR COLLEGE.—The Whigs of Windsor College, of Woodstock, have returned from the Buffalo Convention, and have declared his intention to take the stump in his favor on the adjournment of Congress. As they have returned from the Buffalo Convention, and have declared his intention to take the stump in his favor on the adjournment of Congress. As they have returned from the Buffalo Convention, and have declared his intention to take the stump in his favor on the adjournment of Congress.

TOM CORWIN IN THE FIELD.—Tom Corwin heartily approves of the nomination of Gen. Taylor for the Presidency, and has declared his intention to take the stump in his favor on the adjournment of Congress. As they have returned from the Buffalo Convention, and have declared his intention to take the stump in his favor on the adjournment of Congress.

BY MAGNETIC TELEGRAPH.—Troy, July 31st, 4-12 P. M. Mexican dates to the 11th, have been received. Bustamante with 4000 men besieged Parides in Buena Vista the 3d inst. Parides lost 27 killed, and 60 wounded.

General Taylor's official letter of acceptance is received. He expresses his sense of the honor conferred, and thanks the convention. He doubts his ability to fill the station properly. He cordially accepts the nomination. He promises if elected to administer for the prosperity of the Union. He says not a word on political questions.

CHAMPLAIN ACADEMY.—The Fall term of this Institution will commence on Thursday, August 24th. The school will be conducted under Mr. Gorham as Principal, and Mr. Wilcox as assistant teacher. The preparation which it has obtained during the past year for good government, and thorough instruction, is the best recommendation of its qualifications.

POTATOES IN MAINE.—The Calais (Me.) Advertiser of the 19th, says:—"The Potato crop thus far never looked better or more forward at this season than it does now, in and around this section. Whole fields are in blossom and delightful to behold."

NEW YORK, Friday, July 28, 9 o'clock, P. M.

Advices from Mexico state that Bustamante and Parides have had a battle, in which the former was defeated with a loss of five hundred. Parides lost twenty-seven killed and sixty wounded—Jaraúta among them. It was expected the revolution would be successful.

For the Galaxy.
DEATH OF MISS CHARLOTTE B. McDONALD.—The death of Miss Charlotte B. McDonald, which was announced in a late number of the Galaxy, deserves from all its affecting circumstances, more than the brief notice it has received. It is due to the noble Institution in which she found so kind a home, to its most benevolent friends, to the unwearied friends so lately strangers, who watched around her dying bed, and by every delicate and considerate attention, sought to mitigate the suffering, which by the best medical aid they could not relieve—it is due to the cause of charity to the church of Christ, in which it originated, that so rare and beautiful an illustration of the sentiment "to love all men as brethren," should be made known beyond the narrow circle of relatives and friends. And it is with the hope, that an example so touching, so full of that religion which breathes only love, may reach some heart and incline it to do likewise, that the present imperfect notice is written. Charlotte B. McDonald was the only and beloved child of a most devoted Father and alas! so hopelessly diseased, and of a mother whose last hopes of earthly happiness centered in her. She was most carefully educated and watched over by these intelligent and devoted parents, till disease in its most appalling form invaded this once happy family, and together with other causes compelled Charlotte to seek the completion of her education, in another, and more enlarged sphere. The kind, most liberal offers of the Bishop of New Jersey, to meet her as one of his pupils, opened before her new and very important advantages, and well did she improve them. Possessing naturally talents of a high order, and remarkable quickness and aptness in acquiring knowledge, she made rapid progress in every branch of study which she now engaged particularly in the acquisition of Languages. The unanimous testimony of all her Teachers, witnesses to her constant diligence, and success, while her amiable disposition and gentle manners, endeared her to all who came in contact with her. Her death was not unexpected, but it was not for herself, she chiefly desired to live, it was for her parents, the warmest affections of her young heart were garnered up in them—and the hope of aiding, and comforting and strengthening them, had sustained her in all her exertions, had been the promise of all her life. But it was not to be. God, in his inscrutable Providence, saw fit to disappoint these long cherished hopes, and after the first struggle was over, she yielded without a murmur. Commending those she loved to the Father in Heaven, she turned aside from the interests of earth, to deep and earnest preparation for that great change which so soon awaited her. Like too many young persons, she had been forgetful of those Baptismal vows, made in her behalf, when in early infancy she had been admitted into "Aid of Christ's Church," but she was easily moved to repentance, and under the practical teaching of the Spirit of God, all her early instruction bore forth prominently bright.

"Never," said one who stood often beside her dying bed, "Never did I witness, so rapid a growth in grace."—"How gently God is leading me to the grave," was her oft repeated remark to the friends around her, and much more indeed was mingled with the latter part, she was called to drink. Her end was comparatively peace. On the morning of her death, when informed that the time of her departure was at hand, not one pang disturbed the holy calm of that expressive face.

SEMI-CENTENNIAL ANNIVERSARY.—At an adjourned meeting of the Associated Alumni of Middlebury College, on the evening of Commencement day, a Committee of twenty-five was appointed to make arrangements for a public Celebration, in 1850. The said Committee are to report in full at the next Commencement.

THE TERRITORIAL BILL. known as the New Compromise, passed the Senate on Thursday morning last, by a vote of 33 to 22. On Friday it was taken up in the House, and laid on the table, 112 to 97. A motion to reconsider was lost by 18 votes. The bill is therefore peremptorily disposed of.

WOOL. Duty 30 per cent. Thursday, July 27.
There have been sales of fleece Wool to a moderate extent at our quoted rates. Pulled Wool sells slowly. Some of the flannel mills that use this description, have already stopped, and others are to run but a little longer. This will considerably lessen the demand for pulled, and there may be a still further reduction in prices.

Dr. G. C. Vanhook's Vegetable Lithonitric Mixture. The Great American Remedy is attracting the notice of the principal papers all over the country. Not a Journal of any standing, but what has commented upon the great fact, that it has been introduced all over the world, and has caused for itself a reputation unequalled by any article in the line, in any other country. This mixture is a simple power of disease of every nature, to strengthen the belief that it is a cure in the matter, and the facts as they stand forth in its history, stripped of all embellishments, are truly startling. No other medicine is ever thought of in cases of such popular diseases and tumors, and the voices we might almost say millions, cured of all kinds of complaints are heard in its praise. See our circular, call on Agents of the Great American Remedy this Lithonitric Mixture, and get a pamphlet.

W. P. Russell, Agent.
The Boston Mercantile Journal, of March 25, 1846, gives the following notice of the most popular remedy of the day:—

WILD CHERRY BALSAM.
We speak in praise of Wilder's Balsam of Wild Cherry, because we have from our own knowledge of the article that it is one of the best in the market for the complaint for which it is recommended. This medicine coming from such a respectable source and carefully prepared by an experienced and skillful physician is received by the public with confidence. Its efficacy has been proved in many delicate cases of disease, and it has been extensively used in every part of the country, particularly in the Middle and Northern States, and strong testimony from intelligent and highly respectable persons, has been adduced in favor of its efficacy, in such and such affections of the chest, diseased liver and dyspepsia.

None genuine unless signed I. BUTTS on the wrapper.

VALUABLE FARM FOR SALE.—The subscriber offers for sale the valuable farm on which he now resides, in the town of Windsor, of 100 acres, with a large and comfortable dwelling house, a well equipped barn, and a large and comfortable outbuilding, a good apple orchard, and other improvements. Said farm is well watered, having a great number of flowing springs, and a never failing stream of water running through it, and is well situated to divide into two farms if desired. Said farm is situated two miles west of the village of Fort Ann, and is bounded on the north by the Saratoga and Whitehall Railroad, and the Champlain Canal. The said farm is well calculated for a large dairy. From fifty to seventy-five acres of said land are well adapted to the raising of cattle and other valuable stock. This farm is in a high state of cultivation, and has on it a good quantity of stock, suitable for fencing the same.

THE HYDRAULIC RAM.—Can be had at the Shop of A. & H. J. WILCOX, Middlebury, July 6th, 1848.
